

Polyseal

Open Cell Foam

A lighter weight, more affordable SPF option than traditional closed cell with the same high level air sealing properties.

Typically used for 2x6 framing in new construction, or in steel buildings.

Allows for long term savings and sustainability by giving the building envelope the ability to breathe without the risk of trapping moisture.

